A Heavy Load to Carry.

Along with dyspepsia comes nervousness and general ill-health. Why? Because a disordered stomach does not permit the food to be properly digested, and its products assimilated by the system. The blood is charged with poisons which come from this disordered digestion, and in turn the nerves are not fed on good, red blood, and we see symptoms of nervousness, sleeplessness and general breakdown. It is not head work, nor over physical exertion that does it, but poor stomach work. With poor, thin blood the body is not protected against the attack of germs of grip, bronchitis and consumption. Fortify the body at once with Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery—a rare combination of native medicinal roots without a particle of alcohol or dangerous habit-forming drugs.

A little book of extracts, from prominent medical authorities extolling every ingredient contained in Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will be mailed free to any address on request by postal card or letter. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Many years of active practice convinced Dr. Pierce of the value of many native roots as medicinal agents and he went to great expense, both in time and in money, to perfect his own peculiar processes for rendering them both efficient and safe for tonic, alterative and rebuilding agents.

The enormous popularity of "Golden Medical Discovery" is due both to its scientific compounding and to the actual medicinal value of its ingredients. The publication of the names of the ingredients on the wrapper of every bottle sold, gives full assurance of its non-alcoholic character and removes all objection to the use of an unknown or secret remedy. It is not a patent medicine nor a secret one either. This fact puts it in a class all by itself, bearing as it does upon every bottle wrapper The Badge of Honesty, in the full list of its ingredients.

The "Golden Medical Discovery" cures, weak stomach, indigestion, or dyspepsia, torpid liver and biliousness, ulceration of stomach and bowles and all catarrhal affections no matter what parts or organs may be affected with it. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are the original little liver pills, first put up 40 years ago. They regulate and invigorate, stomach, liver and bowels. Much imitated but never equaled. Sugar-coated and easy to take as candy. One to three a dose.

Unwritten Law Her Reliance.

The question, "Will the 'unwritten law' save pretty Louise Hobson from prison bars?" is being asked all over central New York. The handsome trained nurse of Utica who took the law into her own hands a week ago and fired four bullets, each of them death-dealing, had they carried to the mark, at a man who had wooed and won her, although he already had a wife, will rely upon the "unwritten law" to free her from the charge of attempted murder that hangs over her.

Miss Hobson is 22. She was educated at a Utica hospital and employed in homes of wealth and culture. She had never been in love until she got a note from Frank E. Nagle last spring, and love letters passed between them. It was to have been a fall wedding, a trip to Buffalo, a visit to the home of a clergyman and a honeymoon upon the waters of the Great Lakes. Nagle borrowed money from her, it is alleged. Later the young woman learned he had a wife and was living with her.

Miss Hobson, at first stunned, did not yield to hasty passion. Opening a little Bible she had brought from her Canadian home, she read its pages, and from them she learned what she interpreted as a duty to her sex. "The sooner the world is rid of such men, the sooner such girls as I will be safe to live within it," she declared. Then came the scene in the bank building, when the girl, standing in the doorway of her untrue lover's office, fired four bullets aimed at his heart.

To the jury she will boldly say "Yes" when asked if she shot to kill, and then she will add, "What would you have done?"

People of wealth and fashion in those homes she has endeared herself to by following her profession have taken up her case.

The Castellanes.

Count Boni de Castellane drove in a motor car Saturday to the marble palace where dwells the American woman who divorced him. Alighting, the count gave his card to the concierge, saying:

"Send that to Mme. Gould."

"Mme has given orders that you must never enter here, sir," answered the concierge, coldly polite.

Livid with rage, the count raised his cane and dealt the man a heavy blow on the head. As the concierge reeled, the blood spurting from his scalp, Count Boni sprang into the auto and whizzed away. It was necessary to call a surgeon to attend the concierge.

The Paris Figaro says:

"Mme. Gould and Count Boni de Castellane both will marry again in short order. She is engaged to an American millionaire. She will pass several months of each year in her palace, which is the most beautiful home in France. Nothing will be changed in the sumptuous current of her life, save that her dinner plates and carriage pillows will not flaunt a count's coronet.

"His, too, will be a brilliant marriage. Boni de Castellene hopes to revive the ancient glories, to entertain kings again. His future wife is a widow, a millionaire, who owns a chateau in the provinces, a splendid hotel in Paris, a yacht, race horses, and has great influence with the newspapers."

Everybody knows that the "millionaire widow" of whom gossips hint is Mme. Menier, divorced wife of the chocolate manufacturer.

Mrs. Astor.

Mrs. Astor, greatest and last of the supreme leaders of New York society, will never again sit upon her throne. In a peaceful, pathetic twilight, like the passing of a soft gray day in the autumn, she reigns now only in a court thronged with wraith courtiers, the images of lovely women and gallant men—some of whom are quick, but more dead—by whom in fancy she sees herself surrounded.

There will be no Astor ball this season. Society significantly and regretfully remarked her absence at the opening night of the opera at the Metropolitan. In her place sat a vice regent, her daughter, Mrs. Orme Wilson.

Mrs. Astor is the daughter of Abraham Schermerhorn, a wealthy merchant of the old city. She was never a beauty, but no woman who rose to her eminence in society was ever so generally and devotedly loved and respected. It is tradition that she was never heard to utter an unkind word to any one, and scandal she would neither listen to nor repeat.

Washington Cathedral.

G. F. Bodley, of London, and Henry Vaughn, of Boston, architects, have arrived in Washington at the invitation of Bishop Satterlee to arrange the plans for the new cathedral which is to be erected in that city. Mr. Bodley says that the old English Gothic design will be adopted, and that the cathedral will be one of the finest in the world. It will cost more than $1,000,000.

Fortunate Missourians.

"When I was a druggist, at Livonia, Mo.," writes T. J. Dwyer, now of Graysville, Mo., "three of my customers were permanently cured of consumption by Dr. King's New Discovery, and are well and strong today. One was trying to sell his property and move to Arizona, but after using New Discovery a short time he found it unnecessary to do so. I regard Dr. King's New Discovery as the most wonderful medicine in existence." Surest Cough and Cold cure and Throat and Lung healer. Guaranteed by E. S. Leadbeater & Sons, Druggists, 50c and $1. Trial bottle free.

President to See Western Belles.

President Roosevelt will be visited early in the spring by 33 of the handsomest women in the State of Oregon. This beauty show from the far West will be gathered from the 33 counties of Oregon, an houri having been chosen from each county. The members of this perambulating beauty show will visit the Jamestown Exposition, where they will boom the products of their State. On their way to Virginia they will stop at Washington and call on the President.

Senator Fulton on Friday introduced Philip S. Bates, of Portland, Ore., to President Roosevelt, who was told of the plan to bring these beautiful women to the White House. The President said that nothing would give him more pleasure than to meet them. "The Oregon apples are the finest and largest in the world," said Senator Fulton, "but the peaches we grow out there are just the sweetest to be found anywhere."

Alexandria Gazette
SIC SEMPER TYRANNIS
AND VIRGINIA ADVERTISER

MONDAY EVENING, DEC. 3, 1906.

A DISCOVERY has been made by members of the House legislative sub-committee on appropriations which has increased ther prejudice against simplified or reformed spelling. This discovery was not entirely responsible for the decision the sub-committee reached Saturday that the appropriation bills should be spelled in the old way, but no doubt it helped. What the members found out was that five or six of the gentlemen on the simplified spelling board are book publishers. One of them publishes a big dictionary, a couple are publishers of school books and others are engaged in a general publishing business. The members of the sub-committee realized that if Congress, as well as the executive departments of the government, indorsed the simplified spelling movement it would give it a big boom and the general tendency would be to adopt it everywhere. This would quickly lead to a demand for new editions of all sorts of standard books with their spelling reformed, especially with school books and dictionaries. It seems that graft is the incentive motive of nearly every thing that is started in these days.

MOTHERS' CLUBS and women reformers of certain classes came in for a rap from Bishop Scarborough in a sermon at St. Barnabas P. E. Church, at Burlington N. J., Friday night at the beginning of the ceremonies in celebration of the fiftieth anniversary of the church. The bishop took St. Andrew as his subject and in the course of his remarks said:

"The many Christians are neglecting their homes in this the enlightened twentieth century. Mothers, many of them, are only too glad to go and teach other children while their own offspring at home are neglected. The first duty of a mother is to her own children. If she has any time to spare after bringing them up and training them properly, then she mayconscienciously go out and help train other children, but her first duty is to her own home. God has instituted the home as the training place for the young. Charity begins at home and piety and knowledge also begin at home.

This is good, but by no means new advice but it will be heeded by but few of the mothers of this modern age.

EVEN WITH the opening of Congress the leaders don't seem clear as to what the programme for the session will be outside of the passage of the appropriation bills. In fact, they are not disposed to undertake general legislation, and whatever they do in that line will be under pressure from the White House. They are waiting for the President's message, and if that document is very urgent in its recommendations they will at least make a feint of doing something along the lines on which the President is most insistent. But if much is accomplished in addition to the absolutely essential enactment of the regular supply bills and the river and harbor bill it will be because the big stick is kept constantly in sight at the other end of the avenue. If any other legislation is enacted it may be relied upon to be that which is in favor of the classes rather than in the interest of the masses.

ENORMOUS appropriations for the navy and as much money as can be used in expediting work upon the Panama canal, it is said, are to be voted by Congress, which opened today, as one of the results of the talk of war with Japan. Although no one believes that the present friction can result in hostilities, the jingoes are making capital of the talk and the grafters hope by the expenditure of large sums of money they may get some of the "swag."

From Washington.

Washington, Dec. 3.

The legislative branch of the government resumed business at 12 today. Without flowers, or other forms of ostentation, the second session of the 59th Congress started on its career of three months and a day. To the old-timer, today's proceedings were without special interest. The whole programme had been mapped out before the session was called to order, and followed closely the lines set many years ago. In the House, it was hard to tell whether Speaker Cannon or "Nick" Longworth was the one particular attraction. The odds were about 4 to 5 in favor of the President's son-in-law. The galleries missed the great floral display that used to greet them in other years. By legislative enactment, the only blooms now admitted to the chambers are those on the desks of the Vice President and Speaker, and in the lapels of the members. The roll finished, the House initiated eight new members, among them Mr. Saunders (democrat of Virginia). Mr. Saunders succeeded Mr. Swanson, recently elected Governor of Virginia. The first business to be transacted tomorrow will be the presentatien and reading of the President's message.

Both the Virginia Senators and all her Representatives except Mr. Rixey were in their seats when Congress met this morning. Senator Daniel has entirely recovered from his recent accident by which he fell and broke his wrist. Senator Martin has recently returned from Richmond, where he went to attend the funeral of his sister, Mrs. Moon, who died a week ago on Saturday. Mr. Rixey is at Liberty, N. Y., under the care of a throat specialist, and his friends say he is improving rapidly. Among the Virginians at the Capitol today were Gov. Swanson and Mr. C. C. Carlin, of Alexandria. Mr. J. N. Browning, of Rappahannock county, Va., is also here. He is a candidate for the position so long held in the House by Col. Ike Hill, of Ohio, and his friends say he stands a good chance of securing it.

President Roosevelt discussed the Japanese situation with a number of his callers today, and, it is understood, has practically reached a conclusion in regard to the reply that will be transmitted to the Mikado's government on the San Francisco school question. It is understood that the administartion has found that the federal laws do not cover the case and therefore the grievance of the Japanese for their alleged ill treatment cannot be taken up by the national authorities. This government will express its regrets to Japan over the unfortunate affair but will at the same time make it plain to the Japanese Ambassador that the management of the schools is entirely under the jurisdiction of the municipality of San Francisco.

What Congress did today; Showed a full membership of the Senate of ninety, 57 republicans and 33 democrats. Showed a membership in the House of 384, two vacancies being unfilled, one from New York and one from Massachusetts 248 republicans and 136 democrats. Sent word to the President that the legislature mill is ready to grind. After a short session, adjourned until Tuesday when the President's message will be received and read.

Estimates of the appropriations required to run the government for the fiscal year were transmitted to Congress today by the Secretary of the Treasury. They reach a grand total of $689,028,453 as compared with the estimates submitted for the present fiscal year which amounted to $622,723,151. This shows an apparent increase of about $66,000,000. The actual appropriations for the present year, including deficiencies and miscellaneous which were not estimated for, were, however, $701,551,566 or about eleven millions more than the Secretary of the Treasury thinks will be necessary for next year. Of these the estimates for the military establishment shows an increase of nearly $10,000,000; for the navy an increase of about $7,000,000; for pensions a decrease of about $3,000,000 and for permanent annual appropriations an increase of over $9,000,000.

Before a query from the State Department had time to reach Consul-General Henry B. Miller, of Yokohoma, requesting information about an interview he was reported to have given out in San Francisco on the Japanese situation, that official telegraphed the department that he was falsely reported and had made no such ststements as were credited to him. Mr. Miller was reported to have said that the Japanese were ready to make war in order to preserve their rights in this country. The authorities here immediately demanded an explanation of Mr. Miller.

The Supreme Court of the United States today declined to release the officials of the Western Federation of Miners, under charge of implications in the murder of ex-Governor Steunenberg, of Idaho, from the custody of the Idaho authorities.

E. F. Caulladay, counsel for Charles C. Bassett in the latter's suit against his wife, Fanny R. Bassett, daughter of former Senator Rice, of Little Rock, Ark., for divorce, today presented to the court his argument for the complainant.

President Roosvelt today sent to the Senate the nomination of Wm. H. Moody, of Massachusetts, present Attorney General, to be an associate justice of the supreme court of the United States to succeed Justice Brown, resigned.

Chairman Shonts, of the Canal Commission, who arrived yesterday from the isthmus, called at the White House and delivered a number of small presents which several persons and organizations on the isthmus had sent to the President.

Annie E. Field has been appointed postmaster at Buena, Culpeper county, Virginia.

Terry McGovern the prize fighter shook hands with the President this afternoon.

Among the nominations sent to the Senate today by the President, was William P. Kent, of Virginia, to be consul general at Guatemala. William H. Gale, of Virginia, to be consul general at Puerto Plata, Dominican Republic.

Fifty-ninth Congress.

Washington, Dec. 3.

SENATE.

The opening of the Senate today was marked by the unexpected introduction by Mr. Penrose of a resolution calling upon the President for information concerning his recent order dismissing three negro companies from the army. The chair called attention to the custom that no business should be transacted until the President had been officially heard from. Mr. Penrose insisted.

Mr. Foraker was on his feet in an instant with a substitute, calling for records in the case from the Secretary of War.

Senators looked at each other in mild surprise. They realized that the President had at last been outwitted in the breaking of precedents.

Mild protests against the transaction of business could be heard. Mr. Penrose finally based his plea on unanimous consent, a request which is seldom denied.

Mr. Spooner demanded the reading of the resolution. It was as follows:

"Resolved, That the President be requested to communicate to the Senate if not incompatible with the public interests, full information bearing upon the recent order dismissing from the military service of the United States three companies of the 2gth regiment of infantry, U. S. troops (colored).

Mr. Warren, "I object to the consideration of the resolution," he announced, "It will go over" announced the chair.

Mr. Aldrich suggested that the Foraker resolution be read. It was so ordered, there being no objection.

All realized that the basis was being laid for a bitter battle. Mr. Cullom drew the shades of privacy over the scene by having the galleries cleared and the doors closed for the consideration of executive business, immediately after some nominations had been received from the President.

At 12:44 the Senate adjourned.

Gen. Dupont, the new Senator from Delaware, was sworn in at today's session of the Senate.

Both Senators from New York State were present at today's session. Senator Platt, leaning on the arm of an attendant, hobbled in and took his seat. Mr. Depew was one of the last to enter. He appeared to much better advantage than last session.

HOUSE.

The most distinguished spectator present at the opening of the House was the President's daughter. Mrs. Longworth came into the executive gallery some little time before the gavel fell, her appearance being the signal for a general craning of necks. She was attired in a brown walking suit with a red bow at the throat and a turban hat decorated with a large plume.

By the time Speaker Cannon rapped the House to order the galleries were packed to suffocation. The overflow thronged the corridors.

Chaplain Coudon, the blind minister of the House, prayed for wisdom, strength and guidance for the legislators. He feelingly referred to the members who died during the recess. The set programme for the session was then followed out.

After appointing the usual committees as was done in the Senate, and adopting resolutions in memory of the Members who died during the recess, the House adjourned until Tuesday.

Friends of each armed themselves and the war began. The jawbone of one of the negroes was shattersd and his tongue shot off.

They held the town at bay until the flames were beyond control, and then, mounting their horses, began a fusillade with their guns and rode away.

Boni in a New Role.

Paris, Dec. 3.—Count Boni de Castellane has a job. The Figaro has engaged the former husband of Anna Gould to write at the rate of $100 per article. His first contribution, a discourse of Spanish politics, appeared today. On the money he will earn, from the Figaro and his salary of $3,000 a year as a member of the Chamber of Deputies, Boni thinks he can exist provided the courts compel Madame Gould to pay his old debts. Several unforseen divorce suits are threatened as a result of the newspaper accounts of the Castellane divorce proceedings. The love letters to Boni which were read in court as coming from Madame A., Madame B. and the rest of the alphabet were published abroad with the names of prominent American women or the wives of titled foreigners attached arbitrarily by correspondents by guess work.

Refusing to take a dare from a pretty girl, Arthur Austin, a young man of Page county, snapped the trigger of what he believed to be an unloaded gun at Miss Delia Hollendack as the girl stood on the porch of her home, at Shenandoah, in Page county, Saturday. The gun was loaded, and part of the charge struck Miss Hollendack in the face and several places on her body, making ugly wounds. The girl, it is believed, will recover. Young Austin was horror-stricken when the gun went off. He claims that the weapon was loaded by a companion without his knowledge.

PRESIDENT SPENCER'S FUNERAL

The funeral of Samuel Spencer, the president of the Southern Railway, who was killed in the wreck on the railroad near Lawyers, Va., on Thanksgiving Day, took place at o'clock yesterday afternoon at St John's Protestant Episcopal Church in Washington.

It has been a long time since such a large and impressive service in memory of anyone has been held in Washington. The church was crowded to overflowing with distinguished men and women, who came from all parts of the country to pay their last respects to the man they loved and mourned, among whom were many of the employes of the Southern Railway in Washington, Alexandria and other places.

The chancel of the church was one mass of flowers. Hundreds of floral designs, wreaths and bouquets filled the chancel so completely that there was hardly room for the officiating clergy and the vested choir. Great as was the floral display at the church, it did not represent one quarter of the flowers sent to the house. It was impossible to take all to the church and few were sent to the cemetery, as Mrs. Spencer gave special orders that the flowers be sent to the various hospitals in Washington.

It is estimated that the flowers sent to the Spencer house for the funeral cost over $10,000. Many came from New York. The various employes of the Southern along its route sent orders to Washington for flowers, and these orders alone amounted to $5,000, and came from engineers, firemen, conductors, brakemen, agents, and, in fact, every class of employe who desired to pay his tribute to the president.

From the time the casket containing the remains of President Spencer arrived in Washington it was kept covered with exquisite cut flowers provided by the officers of the Southern Railway. The flowers were changed every day. President and Mrs. Roosevelt sent a wreath of orchids and white roses, tied with white satin ribbon Vice President and Mrs. Fairbanks, a huge bunch of chrysanthemums; officers of the Southern Railway, a standing wreath of orchids, lilies-of-the-valley and violets; J. P. Morgan, a mass of cut flowers, and E. H. Harriman, cluster of American Beauty roses, palms, violets and lilies-of-the-valley.

Among the distinguished people who attended the church services were Vice President Fairbanks, Governor Swanson and Senator Martin, of Virginia, J. Pierpont Morgan and others.

Just at 2 o'clock the soft strains of Chopin's beautiful funeral march pealed through the church from the organ. At the same instant, throughout the system of railroads lately presided over by Mr. Spencer, every train came to a dead stop, every wheel ceased to turn, every employe put aside his work. For five minutes over the thousands of miles of railway, every employe paid silent respect to the dead president.

The funeral service was strictly in accordance with the ritual of the Protestant Episcopal Church. It was conducted by Bishop Satterlee, assisted by Rev. Dr. Smith. A special musical programme was rendered.

At the conclusion of the ritualistic service the remains were borne from the church during the singing of "Abide With Me." After the members of the family and the immediate funeral party had left the clergy and choir retired to the strains of Handel's dead march from "Saul."

The body was placed temporarily in a vault until Mrs. Spencer decides where shall be the final resting place of her husband.

Among those from this city who attended the funeral were Messrs. H. C. Ansley, treasurer of the company; C. W. Ashby, of the treasurer's office; Mr. C. C. Carlin of the legal department, and others connected with the company.

Today's Telegraphic News

Waiting for the Verdict.

Herkimer, N. Y., Dec. 3.—Martial law will pratically prevail in Herkimer tonight, when the jury retires to determine whether Chester Gillette is guilty or innocent of killing Grace Brown. Soldiers with loaded guns will pace in front of the Herkimer county court house to prevent disorders if the jury should fail to agree or find the prisoner innocent. Should the case go to the jury tomorrow, the soldiers will camp in the armory to await a call.

The arguments of the attorneys were commenced today.

Captain Eddy will throw a line of soldiers from the jail steps across the street to the court house entrance and Gillette, with a detachment of soldiers with fixed bayonets, will be marched to the jail to await the announcement that the jury has reached a verdict.

Like a condemned military prisoner, he will be marched back again to the court house to hear the verdict.

Chester Gillette has written his father and mother in Denver, Colorado, that he will endeavor to resume his work in the electrial business as soon as he has been freed. While he is studying in college he wants to earn his way by selling automobiles, he writes home. Gillette has no idea that he may be convicted, and in his letters denies that he killed Grace Brown.

Sheriff Richard today received letters from Amsterdam and Watertown threatening Gillette with lynching if he was found guilty by the jury.

Five hundred people swarmed around the court house this afternoon trying to get in. The sheriff and his deputies had more than they could do to to keep the crowd from breaking in. Whenever the doors were opened there was a mad rush. The court house was packed.

Babe Murdered.

New York, Dec. 3.—Police say that before night they will clear away in part the mystery surrounding the pretty baby boy found dead at Third avenue and Ninety-sixth street Saturday evening. Two arrests are expected today. The police believe the babe was strangled Saturday morning. The perambulator containing the body stood for three hours on the sidewalk before it was discovered the child was dead. A mysterious woman, gowned in black with a male companion, was seen to wheel the perambulator up to the spot where it was found, kiss the baby and stroll leisurely away. This man and woman are being hunted by the police who say they are under surveillance. Four detectives today kept watch over a house near where the carriage was found with orders to arrest any one answering the descriptions given of the man and woman who tried to leave. The police are also looking for "C. A. Gassert." A cane left with the perambulator bore this name. Several Gasserts have been located but no C. A. Gassert.

"I am going to hell, and I am in a hurry," declared Rawlings. The pardon board has been asked to interfere on the plea that the father is insane. Efforts in behalf of the sons also are being made.

Black Patti Dead.

Philadelphia, Dec. 3.—Flora Batson, known on the stage as "Black Pattie," is dead, having passed away Sunday night. Although only thirty-five years old, Black Patti had won renown both in this country and Europe. Queen Victoria Pope Leo and Czar Nicholas had been captivated by her singing. She had also sung at the Italian and German courts.

Preparing to Abdicate.

Berlin, Dec., 3.—The Shah of Persia is preparing to abdicate in favor of Prince Mohemmend Ali Miraza, according to dispatches received here from Teheran. Prince Miraza, who is Governor General of Azerbaijan, is now on his way to Teheran. The Shah's health is poor.

Mr. Chamberlain's Condition.

London, Dec. 3.—A bulletin issued today in regard to the condition of Joseph Chamberlain denies the sensational reports made recently as to his health being very poor. The bulletin states that Mr. Chamberlain is steadily improving.

MATTOAX FOUND.

Operator C. D. Mattoax, who was in charge of the Rangoon telegraph office when the wreck occurred on the Southern ten miles south of Lynchburg Thursday morning, was seen yesterday afternoon for the first time since the accident by a correspondent.

He was found in his boarding house, in the foothills of Sandlers Mountains, a few hundred yards from the main line of the Southern, although a mile from the telegraph office. Mattoax is twenty-two years old.

He talked freely, and disclaimed absolutely any responsibility for the wreck, holding that R. J. Jacobs, the night operator at Lawyers, was at fault instead.

"On the night preceding the wreck," said Mattoax, "I went to a party and returned home, and stayed there until the time to go to work, which I did. I think I can easily substantiate this fact. Operator Clemmer and a student heard the operator at Lawyers give me a clear track for No. 33 (the train to which President Spencer's car was attached). This was at 6 o'clock, as the block sheet in the office will show.

"If my recollection serves me right, No. 33 passed Rangoon at 6:06, and I reported this to Lawyers. I cannot recall that he signed for the report, but it was his business to be there to take it. I let No. 33 in the block because Lawyers gave me the right of way for the train.

"When No. 37 (the train which crashed into the rear of No. 33) left Wilmers, the first block station north of Rangoon, I began to call Lawyers. I continued to call until the train was nearly in sight of my office, and got Lawyers just as 37 was coming in sight. Lawyers gave a clear block for No. 37 at 6:12. I remember the time very distinctly, and the train passed at 6:14.

"As No. 37 was passing Rangoon, I was talking to the operator at Lawyers. He wanted to know when 33 went by me, I told him the time my sheet showed, but I can not now recall the minute. Then I asked him: 'When by you?' and he said 'by,' but did not give me the time. I did not give No. 37 a clear block until the operator at Lawyers told me he was 'by,' and I can prove this by Operator Clemmer, and by the student operator who has been studying at the office for the past year. When No. 37 had entered the block, Lawyers told me that No. 33 was 'by,' and when I asked him the time, so I could record it, he opened his key and did not reply. No. 37 had gone then.

"I do not feel responsible for the accident, and the railway authorities can find me at any time. I have no desire to get away, but would court an investigation to clear the matter up."

Mattoax says he reported for work on Thursday afternoon, but found another operator in his place and he went back home.

Southern Railway officials have been given positive assurance by both relatives and friends that Mattoax will be present in Washington Wednesday, when the offical investigation of the wreck begins in the Southern Railway building.

It is said by an official of the road that there is no law in Virginia under which Mattoax should he be proven responsible for the wreck, could be punished. No effort, the official said, has been made to place the operator under arrest, and it is probable that none will be made.

Killed a Girl.

Charles Good, of the Longs Mill neighborhood, Page county, shot and instantly killed Miss Fannie Stout, of the same place, Saturday night. The tragedy occurred in the woods near the girl's home. Good, who was out hunting, came across the young woman, who was accompanied by her brother. Good is said to have asked her if she was going to answer a question, which he is supposed to have asked her on a former occasion. At this time he held her by the arm. As she pulled away from him, she told him she would not answer the question. The woman started away, and when a few yards from Goods his gun was discharged and she was shot in the back. Good went to Luray and gave himself up. The boy ran to his father's house and notified the family. The woman died before she could be taken home. Good claims the shooting was accidental. Her mother was accidentally shot and killed by one of her sons about one year ago.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

Elks' Memorial Services.

Alexandria Lodge, No 758, Benevolent Protective Order of Elks, held their annual memorial services at the Opera House last night. The principal speaker of the evening was Gov. Claude A. Swanson, who is a member of the Danville lodge. The hall was beautifull decorated and was crowded with relatives and friends of the order. Growing plants and chrysanthemums were massed in profusion in the background of the rostrum.

The members of the lodge were seated on the stage. The front row of chairs was vacant when the curtain went up, but after the overture, "Joy to the World," played by the Naval Gun Factory Band of Washington, under the direction of Prof. J. G. Moody, the officers of the lodge, Gov. Swanson and others who had been invited to participate, filed out from the wings and occupied them.

The blessings was invoked by Rev. William J. Morton, rector of Christ Church, and the opening ceremonies were conducted by Exalted Ruler Louis E. Shuman and the officers of the lodge. As the secretary called the roll of the departed brothers their names in electric letters appeared on a memorial tablet at the back of the stage, and when the roll had been completed and the eleventh hour had been tolled, a representation of an angel, bearing an illuminated wreath, slowly descended and paused at a point just above a large electrically lighted clock pointing to the hour when "the absent brother" is remembered. The roll composes the names of W. L. Hayes, George F. Steiner, Champe Walker, Samuel Winfield, Donald McLean, Daniel Ruben, Thomas F. Spinks, Peyton B. Dearborn, and William A. Moore. The last four died this year.

The address which was delivered by Mr. Charles Bendheim was well-conceived and well-delivered.

Gov. Swanson was the orator of the day. He paid high tribute to the Order of Elks and dwelt upon the merits of the principles of the fraternity in a most eloquent address. Before beginning his speech he spoke of the kindly feeling which he entertained for Alexandria and her people, and predicted a brilliant future for the city. His address was listened to with close attention, and the earnestness of his manner was very impressive. At the close of the services he was surrounded by the members of local lodge and warmly thanked.

An incident of the services was the appearance of little Caroline D. West, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. West, who recited impressively, "Golden Hair's Story of Christ." On the programme the audience had been requested to refrain from applauding, but a murmur of approbation, in which the members of the lodge joined, passed through the audience when she had concluded.

The programme opened with an overture, "Joy of the World," by the Naval Gun Factory Band, Prof. J. G. Moody, director. Rev. William J. Morton, rector of Christ Church, offered the invocation, and the orchestra rendered the funeral march, "Departed Brothers." The first part of the opening ceremonies was conducted by Louis E. Shuman, exalted ruler, and the officers of the order. A quartet, composed of William J. Palmer, Uric Rath, F. A. Rebstock and E. A. Middleton, sang the "Vacant Chair," and the opening ode, "Great Ruler of the Universe," followed. The services next following were conducted by Chaplain J. Edward Shinn.

A soprano solo, "Only Remembered," was rendered by Mrs. Wm. Wools, and the band played a sacred march. Then followed an address by Chas. Bendheim, member of the lodge. A bass solo, "Bread, Break, Break, " was sung by A. E Middleton, after which Miss Caroline D. West recited "Golden Hair's Story of Christ."

The band played the reverie, "Apple Blossoms," and the quartet sang "Consolation." A trombone solo, "Beautiful Home of Paradise," was sung by Albert Schlenker and Miss Lillie Chenoweth sang "One Sweetly Solemn Thought." Following this Governor Swanson delivered his address.

The succeeding features of the programme were: Solo, "O Divine Redeemer," Mrs. Wm. Wools; reverie, "Traumerei," band; "Lead Kindly Light," quartet; "The Palms," band; closing ceremonies by the direction of the exalted ruler and officers, and "Nearer, My God, to Thee," in the singing of which the audience joined. The benediction was pronounced by Rev. Father L. F. Keily, assistant pastor of St. Mary's Catholic Church.

The officers are: Louis E. Shuman, Exalted Ruler; Harry Fleischmann, Esteemed Leading Knight; Frederick P. Russell, Esteemed Loyal Knight; D E. Robey, Esteemed Lecturing Knight; Edw. J. Fleming, Secretary; C. J. Geisendaffer, Treasurer; Thomas T. Downey, Tiler; W. W. West, Esquire; J Edward Shinn, Chaplain; M. L. Risheill, Inner Guard; Geo. T. Caton, Organist.

The exercises were in charge of a memorial committee with Mr. J. B. Fitzgerald as chairman. The names of the committee and the various sub-committees were published in Friday's Gazette.

During the exercises Chief Pettey of the fire department with a man from each of the fire companies was present to guard against fire.

Re-opening Services at Pohick Church.

The re-opening services at old Pohick Church in connection with the restoration of that historic edifice were held yesterday (Sunday) morning at half past eleven o'clock, and were conducted by the rector, Rev. Everard Meade, assisted by Rev. S. A. Wallis, of the Theological Seminary near this city, himself for many years rector of Pohick Church, who also preached the sermon on this most interesting occasion. The restoration has been carried out under the direction of Mr. Glenn Brown, a well-known architect of Washington, and formerly a resident of this city. It forms a beautiful example of the architecture of the colonial period. The pulpit is placed in its old position against the centre of the north wall, opposite the south door, while the communion table occupies the east end of the church with a handsome reredos rising above it containing the Creed, the Lord's Prayer, and the Ten Commandments in accordance with the old custom, as seen in Christ Church in this city, and other colonial churches. The east half of the church has now been fully restored and it is expected that the rest of the pews necessary for completing the work, will be placed in position within a comparatively short time. The Daughters of the American Revolution, who took an active part in raising funds for the restoration, were represented by Mrs. Eleanor Washington Howard, and Mrs. A. D. Brockett of this city with other ladies from Washington and elsewhere. Miss Sarah Stuart, the Diocesan officer of the Woman's Auxiliary and other friends from this city and vicinity were also present. The Ladies' Association of Mount Vernon restored the Washington pew, while others were restored by the descendants of the former pew holders or by persons now owning the estates of former pew holders. Mr Glenn Brown, the architect, and Mr. Harrison H. Dodge Superintendent of Mount Vernon who is a vestryman of Pohick, were present in the large congregation assembled to take part in the solemn services of the day. The rector and vestry are to be congratulated on the success which has crowned their efforts in effecting the restoration of this church which has the unique honor of claiming George Washington and George Mason among its parishioners and vestrymen.

Governor Swanson.

Governor Swanson attended the funeral of the late Samuel Spencer in Washington yesterday evening and later came to this city where last night he delivered the principal address at the Elks' memorial services held at the Opera House. On his arrival he was met by a committee composed of Dr William M. Smith, Messrs. C. C. Carlin, William B. Smoot, E E. Downham and L. E. Shuman, who escorted him to the residence of Mr. Carlin, whose guest he was while in this city. In the evening he was entertained at a dinner given by Mr. Carlin. Among the guests were Judge Barley, Col. F. L. Smith, Dr. W. M Smith, Dr. S. B. Moore, Mr. S G Brent and Mr. R. T. Greene, the latter of Culpeper. After the exercises at the Opera House Governor Swanson was entertained at dinner by Mr. J. M. Hill at his residence on Prince street. The out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Taylor and Mrs. Fred Lamberton, of Oil City, Pa.

Governor Swanson went to Washington today to attend to some business and this evening returned to Richmond.

A white man, arrested by Officers Knight and Arrington charged with disorderly conduct, forfeited his collateral by failing to appear.

Satchel Recovered.

Mrs. L. E. Scott, living at the corner of Cameron and Washington streets, missed a small hand satchel a day or two ago, and supposed it had been stolen from the hallway of her home. The satchel contained two small pocketbooks in which were a five dollar bill, a half-dollar, quarter, two nickels and two cents. Two tickets of admission to a Washington theatre were also in the satchel. Mrs. Scott later ascertained that two young ladies of this city used the tickets, and the matter was placed in the hands of Officer Knight. He learned the names of the young women and ascertained that one of them had found the satchel on Washington street, between King and Cameron. She turned it over to the officer with all the money it contained, and said she had watched the newspapers to see if the owner had advertised it.

New Trust Company.

Washington is to have another trust company, backed by New York, local and southern financial interests. A charter has already been prepared with a minimum capital of $1,000,000, and a maximum capital of $10,000,000. The company is to be known as The United States Trust Company of Washington, D. C. Among those interested in the new company are C. J. Rixey, vice-president of the Traders' National Bank, of Washington, and president of the Virginia Safe Deposit and Trust Company, of Alexandria.

New Police Rules.

The rules recently adopted by the Board of Police Commissioners regulating the government of the Alexandria police force went into effect last Saturday, at 3 o'clock. Mayor Paff and all the members of the Board of Police Commissioners and all the members of the police force were present. The Mayor made a few remarks to the officers previously to placing a book of rules in the hands of each. Second Lieut. Frank Bettis also assumed control of his new office to which he was recently elected.

Ark in a Storm.

The ark which has for some time been anchored off Jones's Point was roughly treated by the winds and angry billows last Saturday night. Old Boreas sent heavy flaws against the floating Monte Carlo, and when the wind had subsided it was not resting upon Mount Ararat, but upon a sand bar near Notley Hall. The ark was pulled off today and towed up the river.

300-Pound Woman Falls Into the Well

It required the combined efforts of a dozen men and the use of a block and tackle on Saturday to get Mrs. Mary Lawn, of Fair View, Pa., out of a well into which she fell, breaking through the flooring that covered the top of the cavity. Mrs. Lawn weighs nearly 300 pounds. William Holland, a driver, heard the woman's cries and went to her aid.

"Give me your hand," directed Holland, "and I'll pull you out." "You can't do it," declared the woman, "I'm too heavy; I weigh nearly 300 pounds." Fortunately for the woman the well was only nine feet deep. While Holland was deliberating a trolley car passed and the crew and male passengers were summoned, then boards and a small block, and tackle were secured. After three-quarters of an hour's work Mrs. Lawn was rescued.

Pope's Railroad Carriage.

The State Railroads Department of Italy has received orders to reconstruct the Pope's railroad carriage. This car has not been used since 1870. It is the special carriage with gilded angels at the four corners. Inside there is a portable altar, and the upholsterings are of white velvet. This news is commented upon with much interest, and people are wondering if it means that the Pope is about to leave the Vatican. It is probable that the consistory, which was scheduled for December 6, will be postponed on account of the illness of Mgr. Joseph Samassa, archbishop of Rigonia, Hungary, who was to receive the red hat on that date.

Postmaster Robbed.

G. W. Fonts, Postmaster at Riverton, Ia., nearly lost his life and was robbed of all comfort, according to his letter, which says: "For 20 years I had chronic liver complaint, which led to such a severe case of jaundice that even my finger nails turned yellow; when my doctor prescribed Electric Bitters; which cured me and have kept me well for eleven years." Sure cure for Biliousness, Neuralgia, weakness and all Stomach, Liver, Kidney and Bladder derangements. A wonderful Tonic. At E. S. Leadbeater & Sons' drug store. 50 cents.

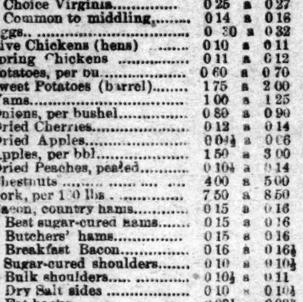
FINANCIAL



IS A WISE PRECAUTION.

You will find that men who have made their mark in life and attained the greatest measure of success were individuals that were far-sighted. They knew the advantages to be derived by the judicious saving of part of their earnings. Why not follow the footsteps of the successful and open up a Savings Account with a reliable institution like this? You will be developing many good traits of character and at the same time your money will be earning something for you, as we pay 3 PER CENT. INTEREST COMPOUNDED on all savings accounts. Why not open the account today and provide for the future? There is no telling what's in store for you when you open an account of this kind, for the account may in time develop into quite a sum and prove a great help to you in your undertakings, and place you in position to take advantage of some business proposition that will lead to financial success and independence. No man is more independent than the fellow with money. No deposit is "too small" for us. We solicit your account, however small the amount, and we promise uniform treatment to all patrons of this institution. CALL TO SEE US.

Weak Kidneys

Weak Kidneys, surely point to weak kidney Nerves. The Kidneys, like the Heart, and the Stomach, find their weakness, not in the organ itself, but in the nerves that control and guide and strengthen them. Dr. Shoop's Restorative is a medicine specifically prepared to reach these controlling nerves. To doctor the Kidneys alone, is futile. It is a waste of time, and of money as well.

If your back aches or is weak, if the urine scalds, or is dark and strong, if you have symptoms of Brights or other distressing or dangerous kidney disease, try Dr. Shoop's Restorative a month—Tablets or Liquid—and see what it can and will do for you. Druggist recommend and sell
